Respondent (Student) Bill of Rights

Members of the Maria College community should be aware of the following rights in the event of a case of sexual misconduct.

1. Make a report to local law enforcement
2. Have disclosures of domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and sexual assault treated seriously
3. Make a decision whether or not to disclose a crime or violation and participate in the conduct process
4. Participate in a fair, impartial process that provides an opportunity to be heard
5. Be treated with dignity and receive respectful services where available
6. Be free from suggestion that a reporting individual is at fault when crimes and violations are committed
7. Describe the incident to as few Maria College representatives as possible
8. Be protected from retaliation
9. Access to at least one level of appeal of a determination
10. Be accompanied by an advisor of choice
11. Exercise civil rights and practice of religion
12. Be provided a copy of the College's sexual assault policy

Maria's Commitment to Respondents

All respondents (students and personnel) named in reported crimes and violations of sexual misconduct, have the rights, listed above, regardless of whether the reported crime or violation occurs on or off campus.

Maria College is committed to addressing reports of sexual misconduct, sexual harassment, domestic violence, dating violence, and/or stalking in a fair and equitable manner.
